Active Fold

Fold 2

History

Piles

no, seriously. why are there two?

after all cards in the active fold are placed into history

all folds move down a number, cards retaining their positions in the fold.

the turn starts over but

you bet your life

"martyr"

if a card sits in the active fold either player may spend life to act a martyr card martyr goes on top of the active fold when acted so it results first acted card's don't always result.

(see above)
